

SIS Map Accuracy Tools: Simplified Pricing and Licensing Model

Effective Date: May 15, 2012

SIS is revolutionizing its pricing and licensing model to fit the way our customers work and need do their job! SIS tools may now be extended across your organization or office locations without the hassles of complex pricing or confusion as to who has access and may use the software. You also have the flexibility to use temporary licenses, provide temporary seats to your customers for enhanced delivery, or give a license to your partners so they may check the data they are providing to you.

Our customers informed us they wanted to use our tools in a more flexible and cost-effective manner. They wanted to be able to install on several systems including laptops and be able to use our software tools on more than one or two fixed workstations hosting node-locked installations. Furthermore, customers expressed an interest of having a pool of licenses for temporary and mobile use, or to provide to their customers or project partners. To address this, we are offering an annual licensing model that allows multiple seats of our MAT products at a cost similar to existing single-seat purchases, easy replacement codes, and temporary seats to do with as you see fit.

SIS listened to your requests. With this conversion to our new annual licensing program there will no longer be a need to worry about being stuck with one or two installations on fixed common-area workstations. Now you may have an annual license of SIS software at a cost-effective level for your organization, use the tools where you need them, and enable your users to be more productive and efficient. Extend your use across groups, install on laptops for mobile users, and get replacement codes when you need them in cases when you wish to change installations. The new pricing and licensing model from SIS: Flexible to meet your needs, cost-effective to meet your budget, and options that you can understand and deploy! License Option You Can Understand and Deploy!
